Mike Bogle Trio

Mike Bogle on keys/vocals; Lou Harlas on Bass; Andrew Griffith on drums. The MB Trio has released three CD’s including “Hipness Oasis”, “Eternal Family”, and “Other Life.” The group is known for the lively variety of jazz standards, (instrumental and vocal) as well as thoughtful originals, Latin-infused rhythms, and virtuosity of each instrumentalist.

Tropical Jazz Project

Dr. Bogle on Keys/Vocals; Andy Barrus on Steel Drum; Efren Guzman on Drums; and Johnathan Fischer on Bass. The group has one CD entitled “Rainbows” and has been playing around D/FW for quite a few years. A lively combination of Tropical Latin, Brazilian, and Island-infused jazz with lots of fun originals. Vocals in English and Spanish.

Mike Bogle Orchestra

A swing band from 4-20 pieces (including vocals) playing energetic and authentic swing jazz and popular dance numbers. The band has released two CD’s, “In The Mood” and “Sing, Sing, Sing!”

Solo Pianist

An accomplished pianist (Dr. Bogle’s FIRST instrument!), Dr. Bogle has played all the major piano venues in the D/FW Metroplex as well as a host of private parties and events. He is known for his command of jazz standards, Broadway, and originals as well as for classical/cross-over performances of Gershwin’s Rhapsody in Blue, Brubeck’s Blue Rondo Ala Turk, and Joplin’s Maple Leaf Rag.

A versatile and dynamic musician Mike Bogle was nominated for a Grammy Award for his arrangement of Chick Corea's composition Got A Match? recorded by the University of North Texas (UNT) One O'Clock Lab Band. An accomplished pianist/keyboardist, vocalist, trombonist, composer, and arranger, Dr. Bogle currently calls Dallas, TX his home where he is Professor of Commercial Music at Cedar Valley College, teaching Jazz Piano, Jazz Keyboard Ensemble, Commercial Composition/Orchestration, MIDI, Synthesis, and Digital Music Production.

Dr. Bogle wrote his first big band chart at age 14, graduated from high school at age 16, and entered the University of Miami School of Studio Music and Jazz on a performance scholarship that same year. By age 18, Mike had already performed with Tom Jones, Burt Bacharach, Diana Ross, Linda Carter, and others. Dr. Bogle's performance credits now include: Doc Severinsen, James Moody, Slide Hampton, Jaco Pastorius, Ira Sullivan, Pete Christlieb, Duffy Jackson, Bobby Caldwell, Mark Morganelli and the Jazz Forum All-Stars, The UTA Jazz Orchestra, The University of Miami Concert Jazz Band, The UNT One O'Clock Lab Band, and the Mike Bogle Orchestra. Mike recorded with many latin music artists and organizations in Miami including Willie Chirino and Lissette, Tania Records, Gustavo Rojas, and El Grupo Chequere.

Dr. Bogle's musical talents and affiliations have taken him around the world to such locations as France, Portugal, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Peru, Mexico, Puerto Rico, The Bahamas, and Canada. Bogle is a member of The Recording Academy (The Grammys), American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers (ASCAP), Jazz Educators Network (JEN), Texas Music Educators Association (TMEA), and the American Federation of Musicians (AFM). Dr. Bogle is published by Harold Gore Publishing (Denton) and the University of Northern Colorado Jazz Press (Greeley, CO). Mike was awarded the Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of North Texas in May of 2000 where he studied trombone with Dr. Vern Kagarice, piano with Dr. Steve Harlos, and Composition with Dr. Cindy McTee. Dr. Bogle also holds the Master of Music and Bachelor of Music degrees in Jazz Studies from UNT. You may visit Mike on the web at <http://www.mikebogle.com>.

Bass and Drums!

Lou Harlas – Bass

A native of Houston, Lou Harlas earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Texas and studied music at North Texas State University (now University of North Texas); he also holds a Master of Music degree in jazz performance from the University of Miami. As a student, he was awarded the Outstanding Musicianship Award from the National Association of Jazz Educators (NAJE).

After moving to New York, he toured with the Duke Ellington Orchestra, including live performances with Ella Fitzgerald, Red Rodney and Cedar Walton. As a resident of Nashville, Tenn., in the early '90s, he performed with David Ball and Johnny Lee, as well as doing master and demo recording work for Polygram Publishing and Asylum Records.

Andrew Griffith – Drums

As a consummate drummer, Andrew has provided a steady groove for many well-known and legendary artists and musicians in the Dallas area for many years. His musicianship crosses many genres, but he is rooted in jazz. He played with the UNT Jazz Repertory Ensemble and the 3 'O Clock Lab Band at the University of North Texas in Denton where he obtained his Bachelor's degree in music in 1997. While there he was chosen on several occasions to play during music clinics with visiting artists Wynton Marsalis, Red Rodney, Doc Cheatham, Houston Person, Bucky Pizzarelli and others. He is currently working on his master's degree at UTA.

Andrew has been a fixture on the local DFW jazz scene for over 20 years, early on playing and learning from pianists such as the late Claude Johnson and Thomas Reese, and the late bassist Charles Scott. He still plays often with multi-instrumentalist Roger Boykin; pianist Alan Jay Palmer; saxophonists Brad Leali and Shelley Carrol; bassists James Gilyard and Buddy Mohamed; vocalists Sandra Kaye and Simone Jackson-Rodgers; and numerous other locally based musicians.

State-of-the art straight-ahead jazz interpretation, performance and composition, plus Afro-Cuban and Brazilian influenced samba and bossa nova, combined with vivid songwriting and composition.

Jazz piano, composition and songwriting at it's finest, with a hint of Latin spice along the way. A perfect storm of jazz tunes and songs. Bogle unleashes his piano fury out of the gate with Acceleration, an up-tempo straight-ahead burner --and then shows dramatic contrast and incredible range with his vocal styling and sensitive keyboard touch on Mr. Sunshine. Dallas bassist Lou Harlas who has performed with the likes of Ella, Duke, Red Rodney and Cedar Walton brings the real deal to both the electric and upright basses—keepin' it deep. Ivan Torres, Brazilian-born drummer/percussionist brings not only the best of the Brazilian style to the sambas and bossa-novas on the CD, but also a unique take on American straight-ahead swing that is rarely heard from anyone in the jazz drum world, let alone from a non-native American.

Mike Bogle wants a Grammy, but he says the nomination itself means publicity for the University of North Texas

All that jazz at UNT may pay off

Doctoral student nominated for arrangement Grammy

BY LESLIE HURHOLT
Special to the Star-Telegram

DENTON — The internationally acclaimed One O'Clock Lab Band at the University of North Texas has had its share of the jazz spotlight, but Michael Bogle hopes to win a Grammy and win the university and band more prestige.

Bogle, the 30-year-old doctoral student and administrative assistant for UNT's lab bands, was nominated last month in the category of Best Arrangement of an Instrumental for a song he arranged.

Chick Corea's Got a Match? is on the lab band's 1989 album, which was released at the end of 1990. The track qualified for the 1991 awards, which will be presented Tuesday.

Bogle hopes he'll bring home a Grammy, although he said the nomination itself means publicity for UNT and the College of Music.

"It's going to really help to create a positive image for us," Bogle said before leaving for New York.

Bogle played the piano and the trombone in the One O'Clock Lab Band for two years while he pursued his master's degree in jazz studies. He played the trombone in the arrangement that was nominated for a Grammy.

He now manages the 20-piece band, which is the showcase ensemble for UNT's College of Music, and he writes music for all nine lab bands, especially the One O'Clock. He has also played with each of the bands and has directed several of them.

What sets the One O'Clock Lab Band apart from the others is the performance level of the students, he said, adding that he works

UNT musician waits for awards

By Paula Felps
 Arts/Feature Editor

By the time the Grammy Awards are broadcast tonight, Denton resident Michael Bogle might own one of the most coveted awards in the music industry.

Mr. Bogle, administrative assistant for the lab bands at the University of North Texas, earned a Grammy Award nomination in the category of Best Arrangement-Instrumental.

The piece for which he was nominated, "Got a Match?" by Chick Corea, was recorded by the One O'Clock Lab Band at UNT, and Mr. Bogle plays the trombone in the arrangement.

Although the Grammy Awards air at 7 tonight on CNN-TV, Mr. Bogle said he would learn the outcome of his nomination during a ceremony before the televised program.

Grammy Awards

■ WHEN: 7 p.m. today

■ WHERE: Channel 4

The three-hour televised program focuses on more mainstream and popular categories, such as Album of the Year and Song of the Year. Mr. Bogle's nomination falls in a "craft" category, which includes arranging, composing and engineering.

Mr. Bogle left Saturday for New York and said he would attend an awards ceremony at 8 p.m. today.

The UNT band's arrangement of "Got A Match?" appears on the album "Lab '89," which was released in November, qualifying for entry in the 1991 Grammys Awards competition.

Mr. Bogle, a Lewisville native, has worked with a variety of well-known artists, including Tom Jones and Burt Bacharach. After attending the University of Miami, he returned to Denton County in 1985 to continue studies at UNT.

In addition to his work at UNT, he works with the lab bands at Brookhaven College. He has his own jazz quartet, which performs throughout the Metroplex.

If Mr. Bogle brings home the Grammy, it will be a first for UNT. In 1975 and 1976, the One O'Clock Lab Band was nominated for Best Jazz Performance but failed to win the award each year.

For local nominee, Grammy missed a note

By Tom Maurstad
Staff Writer, The Dallas Morning News

Given that the Grammy Awards are something of a big deal in the music business, you might think that those lucky few who are nominated would receive the momentous announcement by a chauffeur-driven messenger, or a telegram accompanied by roses and champagne. Think again.

"I just found out last Thursday about the nomination," says Mike Bogle, a doctoral student at the University of North Texas who has been nominated in the category of best jazz instrumental arrangement. "A friend of mine at a radio station called me up and said, 'Hey, why didn't you tell me?' And I said, 'Tell you what?'"

Once the news had sunk in — that the 30-year-old musician pursuing his doctorate in trombone performance had been nominated for a Grammy for his arrangement of the Chick Corea song, "Got a Match?" — Mr. Bogle called the Grammy's board to hear the good news from the official source.

"Yeah, I called them up and they took down my address and everything — which they didn't even have. But they said they would send out an official notification. I haven't received it yet, though."

The song appeared on the album Lab 88, an annual project featuring performers by the university's renowned One O'Clock Lab Band. Though the music department at UNT, and in particular, the jazz program, has a widely recognized tradition of excellence, Mr. Bogle says its recorded output never has been awarded a Grammy. The last time one of its members received a Grammy nomination was 1976.

All of which only compounds the rush of surprise and excitement at Mr. Bogle's nomination.

"I thought the arrangement came out really good; we played it a lot on the One O'Clock tour in '89 — I was playing (trombone) in the band at the time. I mean, that was really my goal in writing it, to write something that they (the band) were going to like to play, because then it would get played a lot."

"And it worked out really good that way and went over pretty good with the crowds. But as far as ... I had hoped that something off that album would be selected for a Grammy. I didn't really have it even in my wildest dreams that that song would be picked. People have been really cool, congratulating me and all that. It's nice to get a little recognition, you know."

Mike Bogle's arrangement of a Chick Corea song is up for a Grammy.

Dr. Bogle plays a jazz piano duet with Michael Palma on Chick Corea's Spain.

D/FW Based trio consisting of Mike Bogle, piano/vocals; Lou Harlas, bass; and Andrew Griffith, drums. ("Hipness Oasis" CD released September 21st, 2012)

Bandleader/Creator

Planet 9 – Twin Cities (MN) based contemporary experimental/psychedelic/rock ensemble with Bobby Stanton, guitarist; Mike Bogle, composer, trombonist, keyboardist; Leah Farrar, electronic effects. May 2006 – June 2009.

Bandleader/Vocalist/Trombone Soloist

Sambuca Big Band (Mike Bogle Orchestra), Sambuca Jazz Club, Addison, TX. (Sambuca is an Internationally recognized jazz performance venue drawing in such artists as Chuck Mangione, Marvin Stamm, Shelley Carroll, Marchel Ivory, Joseph Vincelli, James Clay, Ed Soph, Fred Hamilton, and many others. The rotation of artists at Sambuca includes many accomplished musicians, and only the best jazz talent in the region and nationally) As bandleader, I assume all responsibilities for organizing 18 musicians for a weekly big band performance, as well as providing all the musical arrangements (over 150 currently) for these performances, every Monday night (September 1995 - 2000). It is significant that under my direction (last 4 years), this weekly big band performance has continued to thrive without interruption.

Bandleader - "Mike Bogle 4-tet"/"Mike Bogle Quintet" - Dallas/Fort Worth- based jazz group.

Bandleader - "Elephants Jarold"

Dallas/Fort Worth- based jazz group specializing in Salsa, Calypso, Merengue, Soca, Smooth Jazz, and Reggae.
